

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is always important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menstruation ceases she has always vastly better prospects of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad breath, pimply complexion, headaches, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Pepsin. It is woman's favorite laxative. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to woman's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herrick of Wheeler, Mich., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

To the Shoulders of the Rich.

Will it be possible to transfer the $53,000,000 sugar tax from the breakfast table to the shoulders of the rich. Are the people sufficiently in control to accomplish this end.

These questions are being asked everywhere. The status of the situation is this: The Democratic House, true to its promise to reduce the cost of living in this country, will at this session pass a bill repealing the $53,000,000 tax on sugar and another taxing income in excess of $5,000.

The bills will go to a Republican Senate. If the progressive Republicans vote with the Democrats both bills will pass the upper body. The fate of the two measures will then rest with the president. If Mr. Taft accepts the advice of those about him, who were described by the late Senator Doolittle as being "men who know exactly what they want," he will veto the bills.

Protectionists oppose an income tax for two reasons: First—They are rich as a class and like other humans have no desire to pay more taxes than necessary. Second—Protectionists know that if this country, like Great Britain, France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Australia, Denmark and many others, gets into the habit of raising revenue by taxing wealth instead of the things the people must have in order to live, the tariff tax which gives them monopolies on the particular commodities in which they deal, will be reduced, which would be damaging to the nice fat dividends, particularly to such "American industries" as the sugar trust, the steel trust, the woolen trust, the harvester trust and Mr. Rockefeller's oil trust. High protectionist politicians receive stupendous sums as campaign funds from the tariff trusts, and money is a mighty handy thing in campaigns. The income tax is a menace to the citadel of high protection, so why should protectionists countenance an income tax.

Present Gavel to Kentucky Society.

An incident occurred at the eighth annual banquet of the Kentucky Society of New York City, held at the Hotel Plaza recently, that should interest every Kentuckian. On that evening, Mr. Frederick A. Wallis, a former secretary of the Kentuckians, presented to the society a gavel made out of a piece of wood from a tree planted by Henry Clay himself at his historic home, "Ashland," at Lexington, and fashioned into a gavel by the Kentucky boys at the State University. The idea of the gavel originated with Mrs. Wallis, who, seeing the necessity of such an implement at the meetings and public functions of the society, decided to procure a piece of wood from one of the trees at "Ashland." Last summer while in Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis called at the home of the late T. H. Clay, at Lexington, and referred to the proposed gavel, when his daughter, a great-granddaughter of Henry Clay, offered them a piece of wood from a tree planted by Mr. Clay, which had been destroyed by a severe sleet storm that passed over Kentucky several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wallis were highly elated over their success in procuring the wood and took it to the State University, where the suggestion of the gavel was made to Judge Barker, the president, and Prof. Paul Anderson, head of the mechanical and engineering departments. They were enthusiastic over the idea and esteemed it an honor to permit the students to fashion the wood into a gavel, provided they were granted the privilege of saving a small piece of the wood to be placed in the University's cabinet of Kentucky relics. The gavel is a handsome piece of work, being of hard, dry ash. On the knob is mounted a State seal of Kentucky in silver. "United We Stand, Divided We Fall," Mr. Wallis presented the gavel to the Kentucky Society, with the distinct understanding that should the association ever become disorganized or disbanded, the gavel is to be given to the Kentucky Historical Society at Frankfort.

Mrs. Wallis was formerly Miss Nannine Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Henry Clay, Sr. of Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Wallis own a handsome country place near this city and are frequent visitors in Paris.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

—W. W. Blackford, of Scott, sold his farm of 50 acres in that county to J. W. Southworth for $7,000.

—Owing to the amount of tobacco handled in Carlisle and the low lease leaf warehouse that is planned for next season a stemmy is now proposed.

—W. A. Thomason, of near North Middletown, bought from a Montgomery county dealer Monday a pair of mare mules at $450. Mr. Thomason also bought several other mules in Montgomery county at prices ranging from $150 to $225 per head.

—Stockmen are offering 6 and 1-2 cents for future lambs in Nicholas county. More lambs have died this year in that county than was ever known. In some instances as many as half have died. This means the loss of a $5 bill to the farmers on each lamb.

—Caywood & McClintock, of Paris, bought 20 head of mules, ranging in age from three to six years old, on the Mt. Sterling market Monday at prices ranging from $150 to $200 each. The same firm sold 14 mules out of their purchase to different buyers on the same market at satisfactory prices.

—There was no cattle market at Georgetown Monday, a few calves being offered. There was a good trade in horses and mules. Clarence Graves sold to Chas. Thompson, of Lexington, 3 mules for $700. Joe. Finley sold twelve mules at from $160 to $235. Asa Jewell, of Lexington, bought 12 horses at from $125 to $175. Patterson & Rouse sold 15 head of Hampshire gilts at from $21 to $35 each.

—Live farm boys under eighteen years of age in Will county, Ill., made records of over 100 bushels of corn per acre the past year. The highest yield was 117 bushels and 60 pounds, counting 75 pounds to the bushel. These results were accomplished in connection with a country-wide boys' contest in which the corn of thirty-four contestants was harvested. The average yield of all the boys in the contest was over 82 bushels of grain per acre.

—Monday at Mt. Sterling a large crowd attended court. Streets filled with horses and mules and 1400 cattle on the market, quality mostly common. Prices were firm and high out the day was the duller in the trading line for several years on account of scarcity of feed. The best 1,000 pound steers sold at 5 1-2 to 6 cents per pound; yearlings 5 to 5 1-2 cents; heifers 4 1-2 to 5 cents, with the latter price for the fat stuff. The mule market was firm and strong and more than three hundred head were on the market, with the demand heavy and some extra good sales made, some sales at $450 and $500 per pair. A number of horses were on the market but the demand was slow, as most of the stuff was very common.

—The Messenger reports the Danville court as follows: "Yesterday was county court day and a very good crowd was in town. March court in bygone years was a rattling good one, but of late the people seem to have lost interest and none comes to town except those having business. We say have lost interest—but that's not it, they simply stay at home and work unless called to town on something important."

—There was a good demand for mules and cattle, and some sales were made. High grade horses were in demand as usual but there were none to be had. Plugs and medium grades brought only fair prices. The principal topic discussed was the scarcity of feed. This trouble caused the slowness in stock sales. Feed is not only high but very scarce.

—Business with the merchants was about up to the average for March. Several candidates were on the streets shaking hands with the dear people."

Breaking Away from Tradition.

The greatest importance of the Democratic program providing for the abolition of the sugar tariff and the imposition of a tax on incomes in excess of $5,000 is that it breaks away from the tradition that the government's income must of necessity be derived wholly from the things the people eat, wear or use, a tradition which has been responsible for wealth not bearing its just proportion of the burden of federal taxation, and a tradition which has been responsible for so many tariff outrages through so many years. Regardless of whether the bill is vetoed by President Taft, there is a little question that the Democrats have opened the way for its enactment when another man is in the White House.

WOMAN'S TRIALS.

The burdens a woman has to carry through life are many but they can be lightened if she will turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A soothing and strengthening nerve—subduing nervous excitability, prostration, hysteria, hot flashes and the many symptoms which may be caused by distressing ills peculiar to women. For those "dragging-down" pains or distress and for the derangements and irregularities the "Favorite Prescription" has had many thousands of testimonials from people living in every part of America. Another important thing to every woman is that this medicine is made from efficient medicinal roots, without the use of alcohol, narcotics, or any injurious agents. Full list of ingredients given on bottle-wrapper and sworn to by Dr. R. V. Pierce—who is President of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Every woman is invited to write to this Institute and receive confidential and sound medical advice, entirely without cost from one who makes the diseases of women his specialty.

"I can cheerfully recommend your remedies, especially your 'Favorite Prescription,' for all female disorders," writes Mrs. M. M. Moulton, of Bluff City, Tenn., Route 2. "During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used in all seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female arrangements."
